

Do you have a domain name? If so what is the web address?

If you have a domain name, who is your hosting company?

What is the name of your company?

What is your company mission statement?

Do you have company logo? And if so what are the colors and objects used?

Who is your target audience?

What services would you like to offer through your website?

Do you spend a lot of time online and are you comfortable with online tools?

What do you want your website to communicate?